Quentin Question's Train Journey !!!

Suitability - Years 1 - 3

How? Why? What? Where? When?

Quentin Question wants to know just about everything to do with his journey by train! We try to answer some of the questions that Quentin, and even you, might be wondering about the journey. This event is designed specifically for teachers who have little knowledge of railways and their operation and is delivered in an appealing way especially for younger children.

Your day starts with a journey, usually by heritage steam train, to Highley where our new Visitor and Education Centre, The Engine House, is located.

You will be met by your guide for the day on arrival at Highley station. Having waved goodbye to the train, your guide will talk to the children about various interesting aspects of the railway scene. Then it's off for the short, easy walk to The Engine House to answer more of Quentin's burning questions.

Using the locomotives, other railway vehicles and artefacts your group will explore The Engine House. From a bank of practical experiences, which will depend on the age of the children, Quentin's questions about railways will gradually be answered.

If the weather is fine lunch will be taken in the grounds of the Visitor Centre; alternative covered accommodation is available during inclement weather. A railway themed children's play area is also adjacent.

A gift-shop and café restaurant are also available at The Engine House if required.

At the end of the visit your group will return by train to your starting point on the railway.

Quentin's Questions:

Why do people travel by train? Where are they going? What for? Why are trains so large? What is luggage? What are signals for? Why do we have platforms? Is anything else carried by train? What is coal? What makes steam engines go and, more importantly, what makes them stop?

What makes all that steam? Why does that man wave a green flag? Why are trains so noisy? Why? Why? Why?

WHAT'S INCLUDED

A return journey, usually by heritage steam train, in reserved seats, from Kidderminster or Bridgnorth to Highley, admission to The Engine House and the services of our guide.
