"Full Steam to Murder!"

SATURDAY 2 NOVEMBER 2019

It is 2 November 1935. King George V was still on the throne and Conservative, Stanley Baldwin is Prime Minister. Adolf Hitler has been in power in Germany for two years and fears about his policies were prompting many to feel that another war was imminent. Although war may loom on the horizon, most of the country refused to believe it would happen and life continues pretty much as normal for most people.

Each for their own reasons, people are travelling on the 7.30pm express from Kidderminster to Shrewsbury via Bridgnorth and amongst them are people with things to hide. It is an era when people keep their private lives very much private. It is also an era when certain things are not spoken of openly and when someone crosses that line, as a Mr Seymour Flesh did on this particular evening, emotions run high! But murder?

It is then by sheer good fortune that Detective Inspector Alfred Crowther, of the Shropshire Constabulary, is boarding the train at Bridgnorth on his way home to Arley after a long and tedious shift. You may rest assured that he will bring the guilty to book but he will require your assistance!

So join us and dine in fine style as we travel along the picturesque Severn valley aboard an authentic steam train of the period. Enjoy the camaraderie and banter with your fellow passengers as a foul and brutal murder takes place before your very eyes and you are invited to assist Inspector Crowther bring the guilty to justice. Please feel free to dress in period costume should you wish, to make your personal experience even more authentic. We look forward to welcoming you.
