"Love You to Death!"

SATURDAY 14 SEPTEMBER 2019

It is Saturday 14 September 1947. The Second World War has been over for two years and, although times are still hard, the mood of national celebration still lingers.

The 7-30pm Kidderminster to Bridgnorth express is full of the usual eclectic mix of passengers. Amongst them are two couples, apparently very much in love with their respective partners, although that is about all they have in common. One couple are middle-aged and extremely wealthy, the other young and decidedly not wealthy. There is also a lovable rogue called Fred Abbott, whose glib tongue and scant respect for the law frequently leads to altercations and visits to police station cells!

It is fortunate then that a Detective Inspector Alfred Crowther should be boarding the train at Bridgnorth after a long and tedious day at Bridgnorth Police Station, on his way home to Arley. Unfortunately for him is the fact that a policeman is never truly off duty and, confronted with a murder, he has no alternative to taking charge and commencing an investigation. You may rest assured that the Inspector will leave no stone unturned as he questions the suspects which will eventually lead him to the apprehension of the perpetrator of this heinous crime.

So join us and dine in fine style as we travel along the picturesque Severn valley aboard an authentic steam train of the period. Enjoy the camaraderie and banter with your fellow passengers as a foul and brutal murder takes place before your very eyes and you are invited to assist Inspector Crowther bring the guilty to justice. Please feel free to dress in period costume should you wish, to make your personal experience even more authentic. We look forward to welcoming you.
